

Privacy statement to users of Lee con Ángel app or web version

Kishmorr Productions, LLC is the development company that designed Lee con Ángel. This small company and its contractors, employees, owners will not use, collect, share, post or store personal information about any child individual or private party.

Lee con Ángel is a Spanish reading program designed to offer children an engaging way to practice literacy skills. It does not track user progress, names or any information that connects user to app.

Since this is an educational program designed by certified teachers, that same professional standard expected in the Public School setting is upheld with this organization. Since most of our customers are teachers purchasing the program for classroom use, we do not have access to nor collect student information. Should a teacher use Lee con Ángel tests on ESGI Software, that data becomes the property of the teacher, and Kishmorr Productions, LLC might evaluate the progress of students as a group; but will not divulge any private information including name, age, location, teacher name or name of school.

Should you have any concerns or questions regarding your privacy, please email us at: contact@kishmorrproductions.com
